

Nanoscale Reports: Nanoscale Reports (ISBN No: 2581-5660) is a Quarterly open access interdisciplinary journal, publishing comprehensive articles with high quality and significance in all areas of nanoscience, nanotechnology and nanomedicine research at the interfaces of physics, chemistry, biology, medicine, materials, energy/environment, information technology, detection science, healthcare and drug discovery, and electronics. The journal covers cutting edge research articles on synthesis, assembly, characterization, theory and simulation of nanostructures (nanomaterials and assemblies, nanodevices, nanomedicine and self-assembled structures), nanobiotechnology, nanofabrication, methods and tools for nanoscience and nanotechnology, self- and directed-assembly and negative results. Nanoscale Reports offers readers and authors high visibility, access to a broad readership, high standards of copy editing and production. Moreover, it publishes a full mix of research articles on experimental and theoretical work, including reviews, communications, full papers and negative results.

South Asian Journal of Engineering and Technology (SAJET) E-ISSN: (2454-9614) weekly peer-reviewed online publications focus all areas of Science Engineering and Technology. SAJET publish original articles, short communications, review articles, and case reports is concerned with the study in the field of electrical, mechanical, electronics, civil, biotechnology, materials engineering, computer science engineering, mathematics, agriculture engineering and nanotechnology. SAJET journal aims to cover scientific research in an extensive sense and not publishing a niche area of research facilitating researchers from various fields to publish their papers. It is also designed to arrange a platform for the researchers to publish in a short span of time, enabling them to continue further all articles published are freely available to the scientific community in the government agencies, educators and the general public.
